

On the King` Service : Inward Glimpses of Men at Arms (WWI Centenary Series)

Innes Logan

This little book is written as a slight tribute of love and respect for those with whom the writer had, for over twenty months, the honour of association. This publication contains the observations and experiences of a chaplain to the British armed forces during the First World War. It details the feelings of the troops and the kinds of questions they asked themselves when reflecting on their role in the conflict. This book is part of the World War One Centenary series creating, collating and reprinting new and old works of poetry, fiction, autobiography and analysis. The series forms a commemorative tribute to mark the passing of one of the worlds bloodiest wars, offering new perspectives on this tragic yet fascinating period of human history. Each publication also includes brand new introductory essays and a timeline to help the reader place the work in its historical context.
